

While Eggs Are High
FEED
Ground
Bone
IT MAKES THE HENS
LAY.
FOR SALE AT Somers' Market

MR. H. T. MILLER'S School for Dancing
28 Oak Street.
Will re-open Saturday, Oct. 26, 1912.
Classes—Beginners 2:15 p. m.; Advanced 4 p. m.
For circular, call, write, or phone 1082

What is the Difference
In Selecting
A suit from a
Merchant Tailor
And selecting
One from a Retail Clothier?

The man who buys from a Merchant Tailor selects only one thing, the cloth. He has no chance to see the buttons or linings, and he has to take what the Merchant Tailor gives him. He also has to trust to luck that the Merchant Tailor is going to give him a garment that fits.

The man, however, who buys from a Retail Clothier buys largely from appearance of the garment and the effect it has upon him. He can see how it is trimmed, what kind of linings and buttons are used. He knows whether he likes the shade and pattern of the cloth, how it looks when made up, and HE KNOWS IT FITS HIM BEFORE HE BUYS IT.

Suits and Overcoats here, better than most Merchant Tailors can make.

SUITS $15. to $28.
OVERCOATS $18. to $30.

Murphy & McGarry
207 MAIN STREET

TRY OUR MIXED TEA
Regular 60c quality
25c per pound
And it is a blend of our own that is very much superior to the ordinary mixed tea of commerce.

United Tea Importers Co.
over Somers Bros. Franklin Sq.

As evidence of our popularity let us say that last Saturday was our largest day since we opened. We had 398 customers, who bought from a penny to $10.00 each.

Stationery
Jap China
Novelties
Games and Toys
THE BROADWAY STORE,
67 Broadway, opp. the Y. M. C. A.

Dress Goods
Remnants
Billiard and Carriage Cloths

Brady & Saxton
(Bean Hill)
Norwich Town
Jun 12 WMP

COXETER, TAILOR
33 Broadway
Is showing some of the latest novelties in Fall Suits

There is no advertising medium in Eastern Connecticut equal to this Bulletin for business results.

The Bulletin

Norwich, Friday, Oct. 18, 1912.

VARIOUS MATTERS.

—Torrington Register.

Hedges of barberries hang unusually heavy and red this season.

New telephone directories, bound in blue, were distributed Thursday.

A woodland fire in Waterford burned over a number of acres Wednesday.

Evening school opens next Monday at 7:30 o'clock in the Courthouse—adv.

The pungent scent of burning leaves is the prevalent perfume these October days.

Some extra long telephone poles are being assembled at Allens Point for shipment.

Late housecleaning and harvest time of home needs have been helping trade this week.

At many country places the planting of poplars as a wind shield is being adopted this fall.

Fairview reservoir stood at 139 inches down from full pond by a measurement taken this week.

The 10-inch gaspipe to go across Preston bridge was distributed along the bridge on Thursday.

The quince crop has been very satisfactory this year, the fruit being fine and commanding good prices.

Don't fail to get your seats at Davis' the great lecture by Burns at Slater Hall.

A fine cottage with rubble construction and piazza pillars is being built for Jacob Lincus at Neptune park.

Motor parties are finding much of interest in visits to Worcester Art museum, to which valuable additions are being made.

To increase school efficiency in the rural districts, some of the state supervisors are lengthening the school day to 5 1/2 hours.

Sherlock Holmes and William J. Burns are the two great detectives. Friday evening next—adv.

The state Sons of the American Revolution have decided to hold their Washington's birthday banquet at the Taft, in New Haven.

In the announcement of the September marks at Holy Cross college, Worcester, Thomas Francis Shea of Norwich is credited with one testimonial.

Although the season at Gales Ferry is practically ended, picnic parties continue to come to Charles H. Brown's Riverview estate on mild days.

Today the tax collector will be at the store of John G. Potter, East Side, from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m.—adv.

Connecticut hunters who go across to Long Island each fall have been notified that squirrel, quail and grouse hunting does not begin until November 1.

Growers of gladioli find that although the stalks were late in starting they have been continuing to grow and the blossoms have been exceptionally handsome.

The moon appeared Thursday evening with a good sized circle, seeming to promise the speedy and continued rain which owners of manufacturing plants are hoping for.

Farmers in Ponquetuck are obliged to drive a long distance, in some instances, to get water from brooks and streams for their cattle to drink, most of the wells being dry.

The wheel for the halliards of the 42-foot flagstaff at Buckingham Memorial having become worn and a portion of the shaft decayed, the staff is being repaired and painted.

The second and third quarterly conference of the Lee Methodist church, Tolland, is to be held this (Friday) evening. District Supt. J. H. Newland of Norwich will be present.

Avoid additions to water bills by paying bills this week. Office open from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m., and 7 to 9 p. m. Saturday—adv.

The Apostleship of Prayer in the Catholic churches is studying during October the life of St. John of Kent, Poland, born 1405, died 1474, professor of the arts at the University of Cracow, and declared to preach Christ to the Turks.

Orlow J. Speed, who has been located in Central Village several months, has returned to Torrington. Mrs. Speed, who on account of a sprained ankle was unable to accompany him, expects to return within a few days.

Boys from this vicinity who are on the warships will have a new experience, as the thirteen ships of the Atlantic fleet, including the flagship Connecticut, will take part in the fleet week at Charleston, S. C., November 17-22.

The evening school will open in Town hall building Monday, October 21, at 7 o'clock. There will be classes in reading, spelling, writing, grammar, arithmetic and citizenship. Free—adv.

Mrs. Mary E. Williams Phillips of Waterbury, who was elected president of the women's auxiliaries of the Connecticut Y. M. C. A. at the state convention held here this week, was graduated from Mt. Holyoke college in the class of '71.

The lighter Addie and Carrie has been going of stripping the steam chander John B. Dallas which went ashore at Quonochontaug Saturday night. The Dallas is so far up the shore that the work of dismantling her is very difficult.

It takes about two weeks for a letter to reach here from Greece. The last letter received by Mrs. E. P. Gaudet from her sister, Mrs. Lombros A. Coromina, wife of the minister of foreign affairs, described the anxious conditions in Athens.

At the annual convention of the Tolland County Sunday School association with the Rockville Methodist church, next Wednesday an address will be given on the Cradle Roll by Mrs. F. P. Bachelor of Taftsville, who was Miss Fuller of Norwich.

Apple Crop Statistics.
Local fruit growers have received from Secretary L. H. Healey of the state board of agriculture the following statistical figures of the apple crop throughout the country, suggesting that it may be of assistance in deciding whether to dispose of product or hold for higher prices.

Percentage of a full crop—Connecticut 90 per cent., Rhode Island 75, Mass. 80, Vermont 75, Maine 75, New York 70, Pennsylvania 60, Virginia 50, West Virginia 70, Ohio 50, Iowa 50, Illinois 50, Nebraska 50, Mississippi 50, Wisconsin 50, Kansas 50, Delaware 50, Idaho 70, Oregon 80, Washington 70, Canada 75 per cent., Great Britain, average crop, 40 per cent., increase over last year.

PERSONAL

John Rose of Mystic is visiting Asa Sheldon and family in Ledyard.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Kretzer have returned to Mystic from Norwich.

Mrs. Thomas McGill of Center Groton is visiting relatives in Norwich.

Miss Kathryn Sample of Norwich was a recent guest of New London relatives.

Miss Mabel Smith has returned home to Gales Ferry after a visit to Miss Emma Perkins in Groton.

Ernest B. Nash of Ledyard, N. Y., a former boss carder of the Falls mill, is in town, renewing old friendships.

Mrs. Frederick Burdick and children of Huntington street, New London, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tanner of Norwich.

John Doyle, manager of the National Biscuit company, has returned after visiting in Manchester, N. H., and Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gage have returned after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Harding of Hamburg.

Mrs. Frederick A. Johnson of Uncasville, president of the Equal Franchise league, is in New York for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Sage and Mrs. Morton Smith of Hartford are in town, called here by the death of their brother-in-law, G. W. Cross.

SUICIDE AT PLAINFIELD.
Wenzel Kazorek, Formerly of Occum and Taftville, Hanged Himself.

Wenzel Kazorek, aged 69, a native of Bohemia, and a former resident of Taftville and Occum, hanged himself at his home in Plainfield early Wednesday evening. He had not been in poor health and was not suffering from any disease, it was ascertained.

He came home from his work in the mill shortly after six o'clock, and telling his wife that he did not wish any supper and was going to bed, he went upstairs. Later, Mrs. Kazorek followed. She was surprised to find that he was in bed, and an investigation resulted in the finding of the body in a small closet. He had fastened a cord around his neck, attached it to a hook and sat down. According to the wife's story, the features were cold when she discovered the body. She went to several neighboring houses to secure assistance.

Kazorek, she said, had previously threatened to harm her. She had left him once.

Kazorek was a native of Bohemia and came to the country about 30 years ago. For 20 years he was a resident of Taftville and had resided for some time in Occum up to four weeks ago, when the couple removed to Plainfield. He was employed as a weaver. Mr. and Mrs. Kazorek were married about 10 years ago. Both had been previously married. He leaves a son, a photographer, in New Bedford, who is now visiting in the old country, and a daughter also of New Bedford.

Mrs. Kazorek has two sons in Occum, one in Williamette and two daughters in New Bedford.

PROHIBITION NOMINEES.
Borah's Choice for Representative—Justices of the Peace in Norwich.

The prohibitionists of Borah have named for representative Edward A. Bishop.

In the town of Norwich these additional justices of the peace have been named: John Thomas George, Joseph Ingalls, Thomas H. Peabody, Joseph J. Fields, Louis A. Frazier.

It is required that in towns where voting machines are in use, a list of party candidates be turned over to both the town clerk and state secretary. The prohibitionists are the first to file their full ticket with Town Clerk Holbrook. It is required that all nominations be recorded by Saturday, Oct. 18.

AT THE DAVIS-BROADWAY.
Vaudeville and Motion Pictures.

A pleasing bill for the last three days of the week at the Davis-Broadway, opened before a good sized and appreciative audience Thursday afternoon. The first number of the vaudeville program was a bit and snap by singing act by Johnstone and Wentworth, who have a pleasing line of new and entertaining songs. A. Callahan, the Japanese equilibrist, lives up to the reputation of his race for athletic stunts, and keeps his audience closely interested from start to finish.

For a thrilling wind-up Tauda does a hand stand on the top of three chairs balanced on a big ball on the center of the table.

The Monarch Comedy Four have a nice line of songs and jokes and deliver good harmony and well used voices. Well selected motion pictures complete the attractive bill.

WEDDING.
Callahan-Connelly.

At seven o'clock Thursday morning Rev. John H. Broderick, pastor of St. Patrick's church, performed his first marriage ceremony in this city when he united in marriage, Jay Arthur Callahan and Miss Helen Cecilia Connelly. The bride was a cousin of the bride, and the groom was a brother of the groom. Both the bride and bridegroom were attractively attired in white. Following the ceremony a short reception was held at the home of the groom at 17 Orchard street, at which relatives and friends were present, and a wedding breakfast was served.

There were many gifts, including a sideboard from the shopmates of the groom, besides silver, glass, and cut glass. Mr. and Mrs. Callahan left during the morning for a short trip and on their return they will reside at No. 16 Franklin street.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Callahan of 17 Orchard street, and is employed in the polishing department of the Hopkins & Allen Firearms Co. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Connelly, and has always resided in this city. The young couple have a large number of admiring friends here with whom they are popular, and who wish them success in their new life.

FUNERAL.
George W. Cross.

The funeral of George W. Cross took place from his late home, 21 Starr street, Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. Dr. S. H. Howe officiated. The bearers were J. B. Baldwin, a cousin, John H. Cross, a brother, and the 15th regiment and L. H. Maffitt. Burial was in Maplewood cemetery.

Rev. Dr. Howe read the committal service. Relatives were present from Hartford, New London and Williamette.

Women Progressives' Headquarters.
Norwich women interested in the women's organization of the progressive party in Connecticut have received notice of the headquarters which have been opened in Hartford in Hills building, Main street. According to the notice, the headquarters are at the residence of Mrs. Edson P. Gallaudet and Mrs. William A. Norton, the headquarters will be open daily from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

The headquarters separate operations center into the construction of a watch.

GOV. BALDWIN TO LOCAL DEMOCRATS

Addressed Crowded Rally at Town Hall—Claims the Party Has Proved Its Worth in State and National Politics

Augustus Thomas Makes Eloquent Address—Dissects the Tariff Question—Vote of Sympathy and Hope For Recovery of Mr. Roosevelt.

Governor Simeon E. Baldwin and Augustus Thomas, New York state legislator, were the speakers here Thursday evening at a democratic rally, which packed the town hall to standing room.

Governor Baldwin spoke for about 40 minutes at the opening of the rally and then left to go by automobile to New London, where he is to speak at another rally. The address by Mr. Thomas followed.

Parade to Town Hall. Governor Baldwin was given a lunch at the Wauregan house before going to the town hall. Tubbs band played in front of the democratic club, which followed the governor to the town hall.

Arriving on an evening train, Governor Baldwin was given a lunch at the Wauregan house before going to the town hall. Tubbs band played in front of the democratic club, which followed the governor to the town hall.

Shortly after 8 o'clock, in Councilman E. Hubbard's automobile, Governor Baldwin, with Mayor T. C. Murphy and Charles W. Comstock, headed the procession to the town hall. Members of the democratic club, about 100 in line, followed with red flags.

In the town hall there were seated with Governor Baldwin, Mayor Murphy and Mr. Thomas on the platform. They were Senator Charles S. Avery, Representative John P. Crane, Dr. J. J. Donohue, the state court clerk, William T. Delaney, candidate for representative; Frederick A. Johnson of Montville; J. J. Desmond and Charles W. Comstock.

Introduced by Mayor. Mayor Murphy reminded the citizens in his brief but appropriate introduction that it was a great privilege to have a governor here who, the mayor said, had been a governor for all the people and not for any lobby interest.

Greetings to the Governor. The governor was given a rousing greeting, his audience standing and waving hats as they cheered him when he entered the hall.

Governor Baldwin opened by saying that the country had made a good experiment in putting the democratic party in power and they were rightly asking now what use the democrats had made of it. President Taft had signed the tariff reduction bill, and they were without reading the tariff bills that the democrats had helped to pass and which would be a great privilege to the people.

He said that the democratic party in the house of representatives had saved the country large sums of money in reducing the tariff on sugar, and he said that the democrats at the capital, cutting out battleship out of the republican program.

High Wages and Low Cost. President Taft and his record has reported that a high rate of wages is often found to be the cause of the cost of production to the lowest practicable point.

And often go, with the lowest cost of production. When this republican tariff board reported what is the use of sending republican speakers about the country to tell us from the platform that if President Taft had not reduced the tariff, the country would have been closed. They know better, and we know better.

Some of the highest wages, might have been reduced from 50 per cent. or 75 per cent. to 20 or 25 per cent. Some of the lowest cost of living to every American family.

State Politics. But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and a good deal in the way of political progress. The democratic party has stood for progressive legislation for a good while. It stood for it in its last year's general assembly.

My inaugural message I stated at length the reasons for a direct election of United States senators by a popular vote, and by the legislature. I urged it home, and I am glad to say that a republican legislature supported me and that I had the satisfaction of seeing a republican legislature support me.

But how is it about the Connecticut experiment of giving how it would take to take part in the affairs that go on at the capital. It has accomplished a good deal, and